

MOBILIZATION!

HELP STOP THE SALE!

SAT. Nov. 1,

2000 Allston Way on the steps of the

Berkeley Post Office

It's now in contract TO BE STOLEN

The fate of the Downtown Berkeley Post Office has reached a crisis point. The transfer of that building to private ownership may be only days away. For this reason, Berkeley Post Office Defenders call for mobilization of all those who oppose the threat of privatization.

- Massive Rally, 11 AM to 12:30 PM

Individuals and organizations will gather to share information and support for political and legal actions including:

- An injunction to Stop the Sale
- Solutions through postal banking—demands to the USPS Board of Governors
- Preservation of historic public property
- Entertainment: Hali Hammer and Dave Welsh

Sponsored by Save the Berkeley Post Office, hwww.savethebpo.com

- Jam the Sale, 1 pm till 10 PM

A musical protest, with dance and spoken word with scheduled performers and open mic. Come join us and bring your instrument, sign up to schedule.

Coordinated by Berkeley Post Office Defenders, berkeleypostofficedefenders.wordpress.com

- Direct Action Presence, (bring your pillows)

It is time to establish and support a physical presence at the Downtown Berkeley Post Office so that, with our presence, we can block any poacher of our public property from taking possession. By taking direct action to defend our public goods, we will affirm our reasons for living in community by sharing our energy and resources for the benefit of all.
